

RSV is the most common cause of hospitalisation for babies during the winter months.

Protect your baby with RSV prophylaxis.

Optimal timing:

- newborns (born from October to March): shortly after birth
- babies (born from April to September): in October
- children under 2 years of age at particular risk: in October

Talk to your doctor.

Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft
Confédération suisse
Confederazione Svizzera
Confederaziun svizra

Swiss Confederation

Federal Department of Home Affairs FDHA
Federal Office of Public Health FOPH

